

Rows = true class, columns = predicted class; identical class order and sample counts (243,177) for both runs. Diagonal: positive = more correct predictions; off-diagonal: positive = more errors of that (true→predicted) type. Red = positive delta (proposed has MORE samples in the cell); blue = negative delta (fewer). Values are descriptive only; no significance is inferred.